④ ~~There are lots of~~

In the world there are lots of different pets. In their homes people keep various animals from dogs and cats to snakes and spiders.

People usually have pets for two purposes: to receive joy from them or to receive help from them.

Mostly pets bring some happiness in our lives. We always have a good listener, a loyal friend, a kind family member. Pets help you to distract from work, problems and depression. Also scientists assumed that keeping an animal at your home may protect you from some pain, headache, and others, or from some mental illnesses.

Some people who are blind or disabled often have a special pet to help them walking in the streets, deal with some illnesses and save themselves from other dangerous situations. Dogs ~~is~~ usually ~~become~~ become such a helpful pet.

I have a dog at ~~home~~ home and I love it very much. It became a part of our family, my friend who cheers me up every day.

Everyone should understand that pets are people's friends.
