Why do people have pets?

Many people love animals. Pets are a really important part in our life.

The first reason is that pets, like dogs and cats, are cute. Their faces are always full of love and happiness. They come to people and sit on their legs to help them keep calm and smile.

One of the reasons is that pets are very good friends for people. People love to spend their free time with their animals. They love to play with pets, walk with them.

One more reason is that some people want to look after somebody. For example, some people, who want to have a child, firstly try to look after a dog. It is very difficult to make your pet happier. You need to walk it every morning and evening, play with it usually, feed it delicious things, which it loves, and look after pet's health.

Of course, a lot of people keep big dogs to protect their homes. Big dogs are really good security! They are cute with their friends, but they can be angry and bite a person or an animal, which they didn't know before.

There is also one more reason. Cows, horses, pigs are pets too. People keep cows, pigs, horses and other domestic animals for many things. For example, people use horses to go horse-riding, pigs and cows to take meat, sheep to take wool.

I wrote 5 main reasons, why do people have pets. We should love our pets, look after them really good and ~~make~~ make them happier.
