As for me, I prefer to travel around the Europe and to see some sights on just interesting places.

That's why the best place I've ever ~~was~~ been to is London. The city is really splendid with its gothic churches, ~~ext~~ beautiful monuments and different museums.

You know, London is the greatest and the most well known city of England. It's famous for ~~it~~ the museums which make it the richest city in the world. The city is modern, elegant and stylish. It was my dream to visit it so I was very happy and glad.

The people in London are kind and lovely. I met a few nice people there and we still communicate!

Thus, if You are about going somewhere, I advise You to visit London, the best city in the world!
