The Great Holidays

As our world has improving at a faster pace each year people become to travel abroad very often. Especially asian countries are very popular with tourists. It is great that people learn about new countries, meet new people and at least discover the whole world.

Around six years ago my mother suggested me going to China. Frankly speaking, this country amazed me.

Of course I was very happy to hear it as it was my first time. I immediately learnt some phrases in Chinese like "hello", "thank you" etc. Honestly, my mother and I hadn't got any experience ^{travelling} abroad but fortunately, we met a nice man and made up with him. He helped us with choosing restaurant.

The local food was a quite expensive but delicious. Namely we tried "nomen" (chinese soup).

We have attended a lot of sights in Peking. The weather was sunny and without clouds as it was summer. So we visited The Palace museum, The Great wall of China and also The Summer Palace. I was deeply fascinated by the breathtaking carnivals with dragons and huge colourful lights. In my opinion, tea ceremony in China was great.

Without doubts I took lots of photos. I'm thankful for our family travelling. I asked my mother a few days ago "Please, let's visit China again this year" and she answered that she would think.

Thus, the best place I've ever been is the capital of China Peking. I recommend everybody to visit it.
