My parents like travelling, so I've been to lots of places with them. All of them are different, but ^{very} beautiful and interesting. However, there is a place that I liked the most. It's an island called Malta.

Firstly, I liked people there. Everybody's polite, kind. They always smile. If you're lost or don't understand something, they'll help you. Also everybody knows English well, so it was easy to communicate with them.

Secondly, Malta's landscapes are fascinating. Malta is the most attractive country I've ever visited. There are lots of trees and mountains are covered with flowers. And everything's clean! There are two huge waterfalls on Malta. I was very thrilled and excited when I saw them. I've never seen anything bigger before.

Finally, the sea is wonderful there. It's clean and you can see the bottom even if it's very deep. Though beaches are rocky, they are still comfortable. Besides, there're many colorful fish that swim not far from people.

To conclude with, Malta is the best place I've ever been to. This island is worth visiting. When I grow older, I'd like to live there.
